Jarvis Bagshaw
Operational Safety & Human Performance

Beyond Root Cause
For Instructors and Examiners
Fixed-Wing Version

Professional 1-day course by Steve Jarvis, for pilot trainers & examiners

Course Overview

New science-based knowledge to enhance training and instructor assessment of pilot performance, beyond the easily observable.

Steve Jarvis has brought together critical new themes from his scientific industry research in pilot attention, including compelling and surprising examples.

Delegates will learn about new emerging issues that are presently almost unknown.

Facilitator – Steve Jarvis

Steve is a well-known educator, and the author of CAP 737. He is at the cutting-edge of aviation human science, conducting research on pilot attention and task prioritisation for airlines and militaries. Practices, training, and SOPs from Steve's work are in daily use in airlines across the world.

Steve brings you the highest levels of expertise in the field, true practical application, and his well-known engaging teaching approach.
